THIRD RECITAL WAS WELL RECEIVED

The third and last recital by Mrs. Bruce McV. Mackall, soprano; Mrs. Grace S. Bannerman, contralto; and Miss Margaret E. Clarke, pianist, was given at the residence of Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Punahoa, last evening. It was pronounced by all who heard it to be the very best concert ever heard in Honolulu.

Long before the time set for the opening number, every seat had been taken. In such great numbers did the music-loving people of Honolulu turn out to honor and enjoy local talent that extra chairs had to be regulated. The dining room, drawing room and library were thrown into one, thus making one large room. There were beautifully decorated with palms and wreaths of golden shower, which made a fitting background to the exquisite gowns worn by the ladies of this distinguished audience.

Contrary to expectation, the song "Is it the Wind of the Dawn?" was cancelled from the program and the song "Come Live With Me and Be My Love" was substituted by special request. This beautiful composition by Foote was so favorably received at the first recital on January 13 that Mrs. Mackall and Mrs. Bannerman determined to comply with the requests of their many friends who wished to hear this talented couple sing it once again as a duet.

The melodrama "The Wooing of Hiawatha" by Mrs. Waterhouse and Miss Clarke was indeed wonderful. The interpretation of this classic was faithfully given by Mrs. Waterhouse, the excellent reading of Mrs. Waterhouse. The various scenes were vividly portrayed. One could almost hear the water as it dashed over the falls; see Hiawatha pleading for the hand of the beautiful Minnehaha; and hear the sweet voice of that lovely Indian maiden as she confidently placed her whole trust in the man she loved. Every now and again the deep voice of the arrow-maker could be distinguished as he questioned the youthful girl.

Mrs. Waterhouse's reading was delightful; her enunciation clear and forceful and in complete harmony with Miss Clarke's realistic playing. This musical reading was indeed a treat and both ladies received a tremendous ovation at its conclusion.

During the course of the evening Mrs. Mackall, Mrs. Bannerman, Mrs. Waterhouse and Miss Clarke were presented with bouquets of American Beauty roses from their many admirers. It would be impossible to describe each song as rendered by the several artists last evening. They were all pleasing, because they were all so different. Some received more applause than others, but it was not so much on account of the composer as the delicate manner in which they were handled. The song "Long Ago, Sweetheart Mine," by Mrs. Mackall, was sung with much tenderness. Her enunciation was perfect and her rendition most artistic. This proved to be one of the favorite selections of the evening and was sung with perfect control of her rich full voice. After this talented artist and sang "The Wind at Dawn" the audience was so appreciative that Mrs. Mackall was forced to respond to an encore.

Mrs. Bannerman was heard at her very best last evening and had also to respond to an encore. Her four songs were well adapted to suit her splendid voice, which she controls wonderfully. Each was enthusiastically received, but "Summer Rain" seemed to be the favorite. "Romy Morn" was a lively composition well suited to her voice, and was also a strong favorite with many.

It will indeed be a hard matter to find three more finished artists in Honolulu than Mrs. Mackall, Mrs. Bannerman and Miss Clarke. They are in such harmony with each other and understand each other's style so well that the three recitals have been one of the features of the year and will certainly never be equalled from a musical standpoint.

QUARRYMEN FIND UNDERGROUND LAKE

One of the numerous caves that abound throughout the Moiliili district was uncovered yesterday by a blast in one of the stone quarries in that district. The hole that was opened up was not much larger than a man's body and below there seemed to be a large body of water.

One of the workmen attached a rope to his body and was lowered through the hole till he reached the water. He then swam for some distance toward the back of the cave but found no edge. He stated that it was so dark that he could not see anything after he got a few feet from the entrance. Fred Carter, the superintendent of the works is of the opinion that there is a vast lake under the seeming crust and he is going to have it explored before he goes any further with blasting.

That the non-intoxicating whiskey which a Chicago man claims to have discovered should go well with the odorless onion.
